

Expert for Occupational Health and Safety from Turkey

Academic background and certificates

M.Sc. Occupational Health and Safety, University, Turkey

B.Sc. Chemistry, University, Turkey

Certificates: ISO 45001-ISO 14001-ISO 9001 Internal Audit Certificate (2020), ISO 45001 Information Training Certificate (2019), Dangerous Goods Safety Advisor Training Certificate (2019), IOSH Managing Safely Certificate (2016), ISO 9001:2015 Quality Management System Internal Auditor (2016), OHSAS 18001 Internal Auditor Certificate (2015), Fire Protection and Prevention Training Certificate (2015)

Work experience: 12 years

Senior Occupational Health and Safety Specialist – Battery Manufacturing, Turkey

Responsible for implementing and monitoring occupational health and safety measures, conducting risk assessments and workplace inspections, investigating incidents, delivering employee training, and ensuring compliance with legal requirements

Occupational Health and Safety Specialist– Multinational construction and infrastructure company, Turkey

Responsible for developing, implementing, and monitoring health and safety systems in line with legal requirements, including risk assessments, emergency planning, audits, incident investigations, subcontractor compliance, and continuous safety performance reporting and improvement

Occupational Health and Safety Specialist – Construction company, Turkey

Conducted workplace inspections, implemented health and safety procedures, delivered safety training, investigated incidents, coordinated corrective actions, ensured regulatory compliance, and promoted safe working practices on site

Digital skills: MS Office

Language skills: Turkish (mother tongue), English (fluent)

Motivation for participating in the Mentoring Partnership

I am motivated to participate in the mentoring programme in order to develop my professional career in Germany as a chemist or as a specialist in occupational health and safety. I also remain open to opportunities in laboratory and hospital laboratory work. Through mentoring, I would like to gain a better understanding of the German job market, application procedures, and professional expectations. I am especially interested in support with CV development, interview preparation, and guidance throughout the application process. In addition, I would value learning more about professional networking, self-presentation, and German workplace culture. I am currently learning German (A1 level, continuing with A2 from September) and I am actively working on improving my language skills. I have already researched further training as a specialist in occupational safety, and I am highly motivated to continue building on my existing qualifications and experience. I look forward to receiving guidance, feedback, and practical support from a mentor to help me better navigate my career transition and successfully enter the German labour market.